

If you're going to tax anyone for this stadium project, tax Hartford residents and business. I live in Bristol and root for the Rock Cats. I will never go to a Yard Goats game, and to tell you the truth, I avoid Hartford and most of this state's larger cities as well. So why should I pay for it? And don't say 'for the public good', because that's ridiculous. Very few people in the suburbs are going to go to "Hartford North" to watch a baseball game after all the excitement fades. Good luck with your pet project, but leave me out of it.
